He still made his viewers laugh, still fighting with Manju, still insulting Bumper, still mocking Chandan, still laughing at Dr Mashoor Gulati and still getting irritated at his Dadi. But even then, one thing still stuck like a sore thumb, flirting him with random 'hot' models/teachers/nurses. It was the most everyday, uninteresting few minutes of each episode that one had no other option but to sit through and suffer. Fast forward to today and here we are, dragging ourselves through Family Time with Kapil Sharma and almost an hour and a half of persistent, unfunny and pathetic efforts to flirt. Kapil is on his co-host's tail throughout the episode as she blushes, lost for words and tries to brush him off, unsuccessfully. Neha Pendse, Chandan Prabhakar and Kapil Sharma.Neha Pendse were introduced on Sunday's episode as merely 'the glamour'. Glamour co bulao, claims HRH Navjot Singh Sidhu of his rexine throne and in his walk, dressed in another blinding, bright color. Her job is to introduce the next game, act ashamedly when Kapil decides to flirt her and be just the object of his desire. Replace her with a sexy lamp and you won't even see the difference. Kapil says this is the first time he has worked with a real woman, making fun of Kiku Sharda, Ali Asgar or Sunil Grover who played women on his earlier performances. However, when I remember right, he worked with Upasana Singh, Sugandha Mishra and Sumona Chakravarti in his last two performances. Except that he never desired one of them, because they were either his aunt, were too hard or had a great mouth. So by expanding this logic, is a woman really just if she can be a potential object of desire? Kiku Sharda as Bumper.I blames the longer-than-usual flirting session on not a celebrity guest to take the show forward. Kapil allegedly stood up last week Rani Mukerji for an episode and as a result, when the shoot was rescheduled, he had to deal with the regular throw, the same gags and games that had already begun repeating. You can laugh as much in men and women who fall their buttocks. Unless you have Sidhu, who can break into a pass even at a half-eaten toast. Read: Family time with Kapil Sharma Episode 2 review: Fill awkward silences with the humour of a five-year-old Read: Family Time with Kapil Sharma Episode 1 review: He returns as a boring, unimaginable Oprah with a budget, there are indeed some silver linings in the First, the Golmaal theme song was eventually banned the show. Unfortunately, for us, that it was replaced by 'Pallu Ke Neeche Chupa Ke Rakha Hai.' Second, the women participants learned to introduce themselves and their husbands no longer do it for them. So kudos to that monumental step in gender equality on Hindi television. Next target: do not do 'unisex' washing machines to winners. Follow @tshowbiz for more
